In the Sagrada Família district we find this wonderful penthouse in a modern estate from 2016.

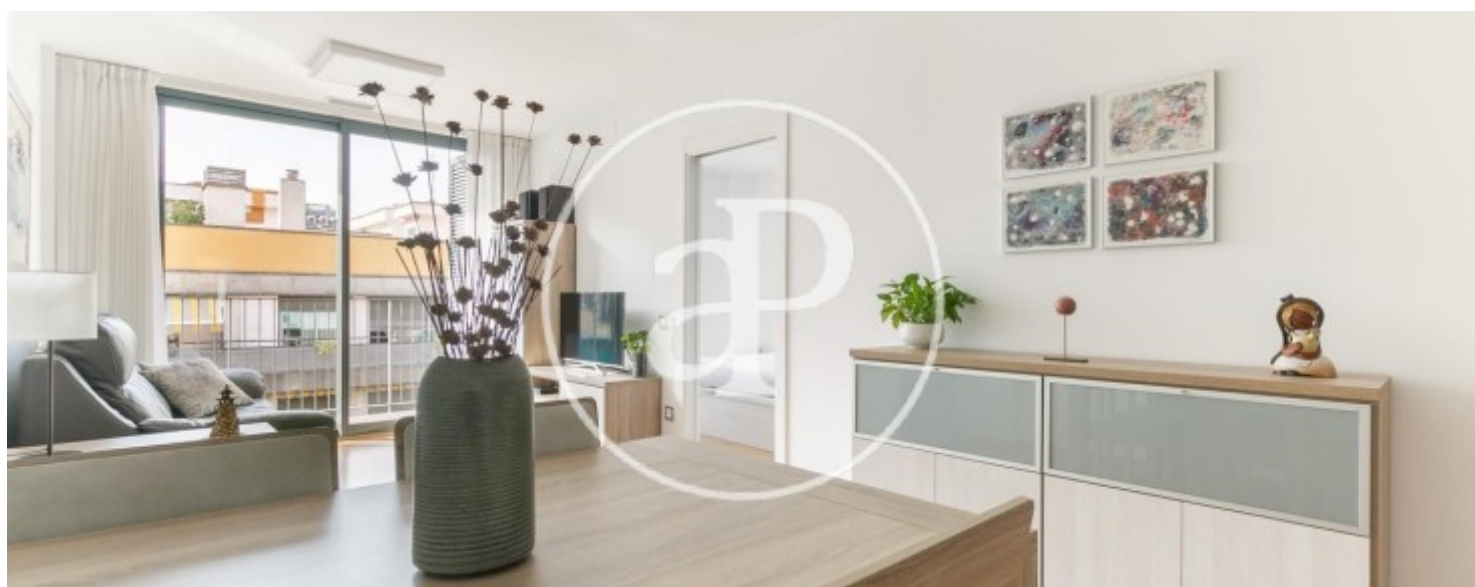

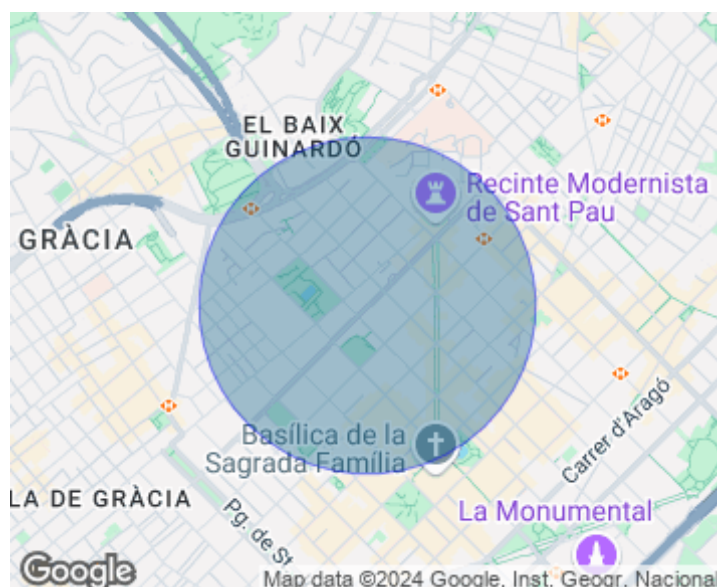

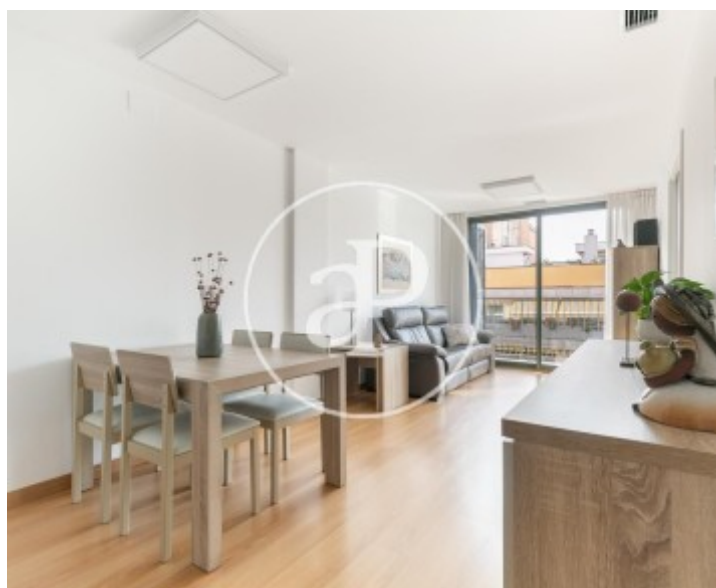

The flat has a good distribution because it is square and all the spaces are used perfectly. It consists of a large living room with an open kitchen equipped with all the top of the range appliances. On this same side of the house we find the main suite with a small dressing room area that leads to the bathroom. On the other side of the flat there are two bedrooms, one double and one large single, with the second bathroom and a wardrobe for the laundry area. All the rooms are outside and enjoy fantastic natural light as we are on a sixth of real height and the last floor of the building. It is worth mentioning the balcony that has an exit from the living room with south orientation. Finally, it is worth mentioning that the house has a storage room with a window and natural light that could be converted into a small office. Optional large parking space in the building itself.
