On the road between Andratx and Banyalbufar, just outside the village of Estellencs, on fertile land with centenary olive and fruit trees, this magnificent possessió or typical Mallorcan rural manor house has more than 700 sqm of constructed area with three U-shaped buildings on a plot of land of about 35.000 sqm. The property consists of a central clastra with a large cistern and the original residence from the year 1.600 on two floors; the ground floor of about 100 sqm, formerly used as a stable, has large vaults and one metre thick walls supported by buttresses, stone floors made later from the walls of the old oil tanks, kitchen with a large open fireplace and the staircase to the main floor with the hall leading to a multi-purpose room of approx. 100 sqm with spectacular sea views, four bedrooms and two bathrooms. To the left of the main entrance courtyard is the spectacular and well preserved olive oil mill or tafona in which all the original instruments for the production of oil are preserved. To the right of the central courtyard is a two-storey annexe of 100 sqm each, which communicates with the rest of the property and consists of a bedroom, living room, kitchen and, on the upper floor, four bedrooms and two bathrooms. All in all, it is a very charming estate to enjoy the picturesque north coast of the island, ideal also for nature lovers and hikers. Can you imagine...
