Majestic palace house of 500 m² located in the heart of Madrid, in a historic and listed building that stands out for its elegant classical façade, stately entrance and original carriage passage. This exclusive property, built at the end of the 19th century by the prestigious architects Luis Aladrén Mendiávil and Eugenio Jiménez Corera, combines aristocratic grandeur with modern comfort. The façade, made of brick and ashlar stone with ceramic and wrought iron details, reflects the distinguished character of the building. The interior surprises with original features such as seven fireplaces throughout the house, hardwood floors with delicate marquetry, impressive leaded glass windows and 3.60-metre ceilings with elegant mouldings. From the imposing entrance hall, presided over by a fireplace, one enters a waiting room, a distinguished office-library and a majestic corridor leading to five splendid living rooms with fireplaces, balconies and a bay window overlooking the street, totalling a total of 200 m². The large separate dining room stands out for its ceiling decorated with engravings and beautiful stained glass windows, while the large kitchen with dining area, fully equipped, offers a functional and comfortable space. The property has four large en-suite bedrooms, all of which have their own dressing room and fireplace, providing privacy...
