The house, completely renovated, stands out for its south orientation, which guarantees a constant light entry, and for its pleasant balcony and terrace for private use, two unusual spaces in this area. An option designed both for those who want to experience Madrid from within and for those who understand the value of a good investment. The interior combines spaciousness and functionality. The living room, of generous dimensions and high ceilings, opens to the outside through a large window that enhances the feeling of space and luminosity. The kitchen, integrated and fully equipped, is organized around an elegant island next to the dining room. The rest area has two double bedrooms with custom-made wardrobes, a full bathroom and a guest toilet, with the possibility of creating a third stay as needed. Living here means being just a few minutes from Atocha station and several metro and bus lines and surrounded by the most important cultural axis of the city, with the Prado Museum, the Reina Sofía Museum and the Retiro Park within a pleasant walk. A vibrant area, well...
