Upon arrival we enter a large entrance hall that divides the night area and the day area.

To the right we find an office with large window to the street, a large living room, also with large window to the street. The night area consists of 2 bedrooms and bathroom, has service door. The great jewel of this house is the large patio that has and communicates with several rooms of the house. The back area consists of a large living room with windows to another street and semi open kitchen that leads to the patio. This house is located in a unique building, with floor of the time and high ceilings. It has many possibilities. Some of these images have been processed
