aProperties has the great honor and pleasure of presenting this house, designed by the architect Domènec Sugrañes i Gras, a disciple of Gaudí.

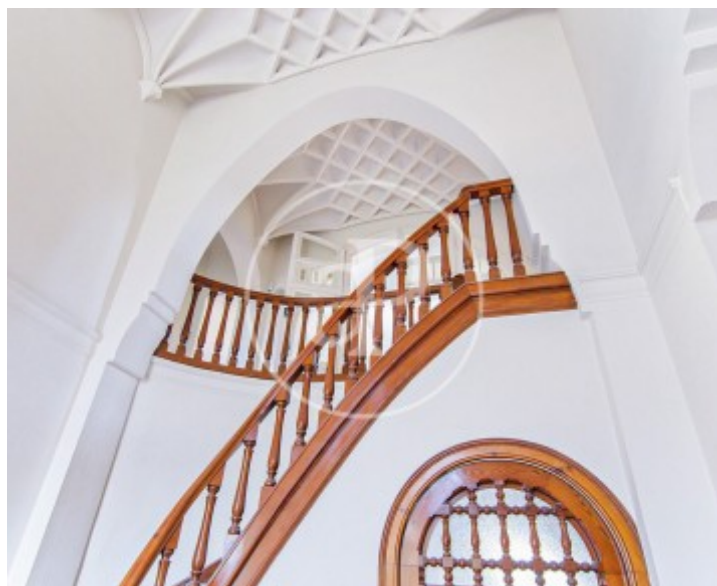

The house was built in 1928 by commission of a private owner. Fully restored, it is surrounded by a bucolic garden with century-old trees, terraces, porches, and different leisure areas, a large swimming pool, and a wooden workshop-studio. This fantastic work of art-home stands on a 1,479 m² plot and spans 347 m² according to the land registry. It is a corner property with a very high degree of privacy. On the main floor, after crossing an impressive, almost magical entrance that will immediately transport you to the fairy tales of childhood, you pass through a small welcoming terrace and then through the large solid wood main door that leads to a hall with a closet — the prelude to the living-dining room that will leave you speechless with its ceilings crafted by the great master Domènec Sugrañes i Gras, Gaudí's disciple. The double-height living-dining room features a wood-burning fireplace, interior balcony, and ceilings that must be seen to be appreciated, along with a functional kitchen with an independent dining area and a guest...
