The municipality of Son Servera is one of the five entities that make up the region of Levante Mallorquín, and includes the population centres of Cala Millor, Son Servera, Cala Bona, Costa de los Pinos and Puerto Nuevo, Puerto Verde and Puerto Viejo (Port Nou, Port Verd and Port Vell), as well as the outlying areas of Pula and es Rafalet. Son Servera has the Son Lluc mountain to the northeast and Na Peñal and the peak of La Fuente to the southwest. It is an important family tourist destination and one of the most visited villages in Mallorca during the summer months, with a wide range of hotels. Cala Bona is a harbour town, where its moorings are divided between fishing boats and pleasure boats. Costa de los Pinos is a town of second homes and villas. In Pula there is an outstanding golf course redesigned by José María Olazábal and considered one of the ten best courses in Spain. Pula Golf has hosted eight European Tour tournaments. This imposing house with a lot of history consists of a plot of about 500sqm, distributed between the large main house of about 200sqm divided in 2 floors, the garden, the garage and another small independent building in the garden. This is a wonderful opportunity, as it is a blank canvas from which to create a unique home, blending tradition and modernity.
