A few steps from the Avenida Reino de Valencia, Gran Vía Marqués del Túria and one of the most popular streets in the Eixample district of Valencia is this excellent house completely renovated on the second floor of a stately building of 1930. The facade of this classic farm in the Gran Vía neighborhood has recently been restored. The distribution of the house has been completely modified. The house is accessed by a hallway with corridor through which you reach the day area that has a large open kitchen and a living room. Both rooms are located in the interior part of the house, giving their large windows to a large courtyard of apples so characteristic in the buildings of the area. Thanks to its large windows and its orientation, it has a lot of natural light throughout the day. The kitchen has a marble bench and an open counter to the living room that also serves as a table. In the rest of the house there is the night area where we find three bedrooms, two of them exterior, one interior, a bathroom with shower and a toilet. One of the rooms facing the street has a viewpoint that protrudes from the facade that gives a characteristic touch to the property. The master bedroom also has a high quality dressing room. The floor conserves original details of the constructions of the zone like the statures in the high ceilings in almost all the house and the...
